

One of the problems with the Articles of Confederation was that they were not able to confront the domestic uprisings of the time, such as Shay's Rebellion. The inability of the federal government to deal with unrest was evident as Abigail Adams wrote to Thomas Jefferson of the “ignorant, restless desperados” that had caused problems in Massachusetts (Doc. G).