

1st Sentence (point of analysis)

International migration during the late 19th century transformed American society as immigrants primarily moved to large American cities.

2nd Sentence (use the document to support your point)

The maps of European immigration show the shift in migration to the United States as more immigrants from Southern and Eastern Europe emigrated to the United States (Doc. 1)

3rd Sentence (develop your analysis using purpose, audience, context or POV. This is context)

These “New Immigrants” were poorer than previous generations of immigrants, were primarily Catholic, and were not typically familiar with democracy. This challenged the leadership of American cities to integrate these immigrants into society. (CONTEXT)