

1st Sentence (point of analysis)

Abolitionists sought to expand democratic ideals by freeing slaves from bondage.

2nd Sentence (use the document to support your point)

William Lloyd Garrison wrote of the unjust slave system and detailed the unspeakable hardships it brought upon the individuals in chains (Doc 1).

3rd Sentence (develop your analysis using purpose, audience, context or POV. This is purpose)

Given that this was a declaration at an anti-slavery convention, Garrison sought to ignite passion in his audience in order to expand the abolition movement.

4th Sentence (Strengthen your analysis by integrating a relevant piece of outside information. Try to do this once in each body paragraph)

Despite an increase in the participation in the abolition movement, Congress, as evidenced by the Gag Resolution, refused to even consider legislative action on this issue which limited the effectiveness of the abolition movement in expanding democratic ideals to African Americans.

*Here's what it looks like all put together.

Abolitionists sought to expand democratic ideals by freeing slaves from bondage. William Lloyd Garrison wrote of the unjust slave system and detailed the unspeakable hardships it brought upon the individuals in chains (Doc 1). Given that this was a declaration at an anti-slavery convention, Garrison sought to ignite passion in his audience in order to expand the abolition movement. Despite an increase in the participation in the abolition movement, Congress, as evidenced by the Gag Resolution, refused to even consider legislative action on this issue which limited the effectiveness of the abolition movement in expanding democratic ideals to African Americans.